This article has 24 authors. To truncate, add an ellipsis after the first three, then the CV's author, then "et al." If the CV author's name is within the first three, note the first three, then "et al." Note: if other authors are part of your division or study group, consider keeping their names in the list for recognition.

When authored on behalf of an organization or group, add a semi-colon after the last author's name and the name of the group.

Accepted and available online, but not yet in print edition.

Online-only journal, not indexed in PubMed. Use the full journal name and doi (digital object identifier) or the web address (URL); both are not necessary. This type of publication can instead be listed under a subsection entitled "Electronic Publications" if it is NOT peer-reviewed.
